

Manufacturer's Declaration on fluorinated
greenhouse gases
according to REGULATION (EU) 2024/573

The water analysis instruments and reagents manufactured by Gebrüder Heyl Analysentechnik GmbH & Co. KG and placed on the market in the European Union, including the product groups listed in Annex 1, do not, according to our current assessment, contain any fluorinated greenhouse gases (F-gases) within the meaning of Annexes I and II to Regulation (EU) 2024/ 573 and do not rely on such gases for their intended function.

Our products do not contain any gases that are subject to the restrictions and prohibitions of the aforementioned regulation, nor are such gases released or used during the product lifecycle.

This declaration is made based on our current knowledge and regular review of our supply chain and manufacturing processes.

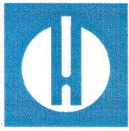

This declaration is made on behalf of
